“ Oh, my sweet sister. How I wanted to be there to see Delano and the beautiful children and grandchildren that are your legacy. I have never known a perfect mother or wife but I've known sweet, precious, and imperfect love from many who have never really known how to express it in word or deed. Oh, my sister I knew a love from you that never really ever needed to be expressed but was perfectly shown no matter how long it had been since we'd seen one another. Rest in peace and may those of us left behind hold fast to the sweet memories of our precious time together.

“ Grandma, I miss you so much right now. I started a journal where I can write letters to you. It's not the same as talking to you but it helps me a little. You were my best friend and I cant wait until we are reunited. It might be a while but some things are worth the wait. I love you, always and forever, Justine.

“ I miss you so much mom and will everday after. I know you was able to see all your grandkids grow up to be fine uoung adults except for brooklynn and nolan but I dont wsnt you to worry about them, they will turn out as great as the others, cause you are in heaven now and will watch over them. Since you are with the lord now, can you ask him to give dad a special blessing of peace in his heart and for your boys also. You would have been so proud to see your sons and christian as your pallbarers, they brought me to tears. I know you visited me on your way to heaven and I know you will watch over us all in heaven. I miss you mommy and always will. Love,
