“ Debbie was a kind lady. I met her while working at King's Way church. She gave me a prayer shawl that she made, which I still have. She will be missed!

“ I met Debbie 25 years ago at Waynesville Middle School. I traveled between the two middle schools and at one point shared a classroom with her. When the two schools merged our friendship continued and we even collaborated at times with our classes. Debbie was a very organized and dedicated teacher. She cared greatly about her students and would often stay later at school to help students complete projects. As our friendship grew I could see that she loved her family deeply. They were very important to her and she cared for them sacrificially. She also cared deeply for her friends. She seemed to know everyone's birthdays and anniversaries and always sent cards. She loved to knit and would make lovely hats and scarves to gift. She also made prayer shawls for nursing homes and seriously ill people. Debbie had a strong faith and definitely had a close relationship with Jesus Christ. We often shared our faith and she knew where she was going when this life was over. I believe she is now rejoicing in heaven. She is no longer confined to a frail body and in pain. I know that her desire is that

“ I was saddened to hear of Debbie's passing. She is now in heaven with her family and long time friend, Nancy (Revis) Reynolds. I believe they met at SMS in the 1970s and I always admired their long term friendship.
