“ Uncle Joe I’ll always remember you as the loud, opinionated, and funny one. You were always willing to try any food and encouraged me a few times to try something new. I’ll never forget trying those oysters! You were able to bring people together and find the humor in a situation. I wish we would have been able to visit like you always offered. I hope now that you are free from any pain. We will miss you.

“ When Joe worked in Sierra Loeone he would tell me dtotie about some of the villagers there were cannibalistic and then he tried to get me to take s job there. I told him he only wanted me to go there so those villagers would look at this big man and think we have a buffet. I will miss my friends sense of humor. Rest in Peace Joe T.
