

John Scott Senovich

June 16, 1968 - September 16, 2014

John was born on June 16th, 1968, at Fort Leonard Wood hospital. He was a quiet boy who enjoyed turtles, walking in the woods and playing with bugs. He attended grade school in Laquey, attended Waynesville Junior High and graduated from Waynesville High School.

After high school, John performed in several bands—the most popular of which, the Base Apes, remains a relevant memory of his peers to this day.

John was an avid audiophile and musician, collaborating with a multitude of bands and artists for three decades, leaving behind an extensive library of music. He also published several books—some on the paranormal—and maintained a prolific internet presence.

Meanwhile, he worked most of his adult life as an over-the-road driver for companies such as Trailiner and IWX. Driving for Upstaging, Inc., he accompanied artists such as Fleetwood Mac, Steely Dan, Beck, The Smashing Pumpkins, U2, Janet Jackson, Prince and Marilyn Manson across the nation.

John belonged to the Missouri Film Alliance and produced, wrote and directed two films of underground acclaim—Redneck Carnage and Dystopia: 2013; a long-running local weekly television program, The Johnno Show; and also produced local tv commercials.

John will be sadly missed by a multitude of friends, family and fans who are forever changed, and survived by his mother, Sharon; his brother, Sam; his brother, Michael Stevens, and his family; his cousins, Donald and Dean Keys, and their families; many other relatives and many, many friends.

Services were held at 2:00 p.m. Saturday, September 27, 2014 in the Memorial Chapels and Crematory of Waynesville / St. Robert with Rev. Christopher Hendrix officiating. The songs "In God's Eyes" and "Medley: These Are Difficult Times/Remember the Good Times" by Willie Nelson were played. Music was also provided by Juni Perez and the Spanish Lighthouse Choir. Also speaking was Pastor Benny Perez of the Spanish Lighthouse.

“ I knew John from High School and can tell you he was reserved but had a very big kind heart. He gave me a copy of Johnathan Livingston Seagull which was John's way of telling me to be more than ordinary. John will be sorely missed and my belated condolences go out to his family. The world has lost a truly good dude.

“ I don't John at all. I just caught this awesome piece by John submitted to Crazy Magazine in July of 1982. It was gold and made me laugh. You all need to know that these little things that John did will live on indefinitely and needs to be celebrated.

“ John, I met you and spoke with you for only about thirty minutes and on facebook periodically after that. Those thirty minutes were the most fun I'd had in quite a while. You made me feel comfortable and at ease during an audition with your humor, your personality, and your sincerity. Thank you, Senovich family for sharing him with me for those brief moments of genuine Johnno. My thoughts are with you for as long as you need them.

“ Johhno asked me to breakfast several times before I accepted. We met, we shook hands and began talking film. After a few minutes he looked at me (like Johhno did) and said, "you aren't anything like I expected". I shot back "I'm not like what anybody expects". We had a good laugh and talked about the next big thing. I looked forward to working with him and there will always be some little part of me that will regret not being able to. To his parents I wish to say, good job raising him, and to his friends I say, we were lucky to have been graced by his exuberance. I hope he shines as an example to all of us that new him. Here's to seeing you again Johhno.

“ I am shocked that you left this world so suddenly, John. Unfortunately, I know the immense, overwhelming, pain that you were suffering from. You were a gift to everyone you met. An honorable man, who gave people inspiration, life, joy, love, and true friendship. You will be missed by many; because you were loved by many. My thoughts go out to your family now, I am truly saddened by their loss. Our loss. The world's loss. I light this candle for you John Senovich, because you were a guiding light to everyone who knew you or had the opportunity to meet. May your life continue to inspire and guide everyone.

Cynde White - September 20, 2014 at 04:21 PM

“ Your life and you were as bright as the sun and as expansive as the stars. You were one in a mil and I will always carry you with me in my heart. Til we meet again--and most of all thank you for being you and one I called treasured friend. You're soul family to me and that never ends.
