“Kathy was more than a friend. She was part of my family. I remember when I first met her she talked of getting back to Jersey to see “my kids” Brian and Kristine. Then came Sarah. She had yet another child to love. She always talked about getting her children to Missouri. When she talked of them she said “My”, my Brian, my Kristine, my Sarah. Her children were her only focus. She was very happy to have all three in her home under her roof. She truly loved her children. She also loved her little dog. When she went to New Jersey, I was trusted to sit her dog. She called not to say she was having a good time. She would ask how her dog was and told me when she would be back. I loved Kathy, as my friend. We were family. She would come take care of us and do my dishes and clean the house while I was working. She was always going in and caring for me. She and I with Sarah and the dog, would take long road trips, just to see Missouri and talk. We drove and talked a lot. I will miss you Kathy, I will always love you. Brian, Kristine and Sarah, think of all the Mac and cheese you got when you were hungry at all times of the day. Lots of love in every meal, every birthday cake and every Christmas. She always made sure you had a good Christmas. She always wanted more for you. Never thinking of herself. Always her kids and grand kids. Rest In Peace Kathy. You have done a job well done here on this earth. Keep a light on for me. See you soon in Heaven.

through laughter shared, a digital world with you, Kelly, adventure can be found, on wild ground
Your spirit lives, a gentle wit,
& loving soul; a giving heart.

You make the ordinary feel brand new,
With funny stories, facts and wit,
Inspiring goals, both near and far,
Beneath the sun, beneath a star.

And when the storms gathered near,
And sadness seemed to disappear,
You stood with us, a steadfast light,
For us and Brian, shining bright.

Through this new journey, hand in hand,
We'll be right there, you understand, dear
Kelly,
Our love and support will never cease.
