“ There aren't many people in this world that I would choose over Sue Williams to have a conversation with. She was fascinating to talk to and I enjoyed every minute I spent with her. When she came to work at Cracker Barrel they assigned me the ridiculous duty of training her. Don't you know how foolish I felt walking up to a table with her as my trainee. I'd let her do the introductions and she claim I'd taught her everything she knew which always got a big laugh. She was truly a legend and I regret not having known her earlier in life and not getting to spend more time with her. I would have loved having her as a traveling companion. Maybe next time.

“ Sue was a one of a kind. Loved here and the way that she always addressed things, like vegetable containers. I think of her everytime that I plant things. Such a good woman.

Sue was the sweetest woman ever. She always said hello tina when I came in! What do you have good to eat today? I would tell her .I brought you some too. Great! She would say. She always told my mom Edith everyday. What wonderful daughters you have Edith! I hope you know you are very blessed. I will miss her dearly.
