“ Sissy, Ashley, Leigha, my heart breaks for all of you. I know what his loss means to your family unit. He was a fine man, as evidenced by how kind and caring you have all been toward me. You four were always in pictures, always having fun together, and always loving and expressing that love. And, when he smiled, he lit up. I can tell you that I will continue to pray for you. I will listen if you want to talk, and I will love you through the horrible days ahead. You know where Russ is, and that is our great hope in the Lord. Love and prayer to you all.

“I never felt quite comfortable calling Russ, “Russ”, because he was my best friends’ dad through my whole childhood. We didn’t get to spend that much time together when I was young because it seemed he was so busy, but I knew he was doing everything he could to be there for his family. I really fondly remember the softball practices and our trip out to Bakersfield to watch Leigha’s tournament after highscool, then getting Mexican afterward... and Russ was so funny. He talked when he had a joke or an opinion, and had such conviction in them. And I remember, maybe the first time I ever spent considerable time around him, when I was little in the car on the way to Ashley’s— he asked me “who’s your favorite president?” I was so proud that I had the right answer!! He was such a friendly guy, and such a protective and loyal and strong man, and he definitely helped form my sense of humor and put a couple of my favorite people on the planet. I think I only said it out loud once or twice, but, I love you Russ! I’m praying for your kids and wife. I’m glad I was able to know you. I’m really sorry you’re gone, for reasons I can’t even fully deal with myself. I think of you whenever I drop a hotdog in the fire or talk about Reagan or tannerite or road graders, and I always will.

“ Sissy, Ashley, and Leigha, we are so sorry about Russ. He is in a much better place and is looking down on his family from heaven. I will always remember seeing him at the gatherings--especially the girls' ballgames. I know he was a wonderful father and husband and will always be there in your hearts--in spirit and memory. May God bless you and comfort you during this sorrowful time. We are always here if you need anything. God Bless! Karen and Jeff Leonard.
