“ Sally Polk and her family were one of our first friends and neighbors in Saginaw, Texas. I remember summers packing sandwiches and loading up the truck with just enough gas to get us all to the lake and back. She was one of the most fun mothers on the block where we grew up and I treasure those childhood memories with her, Leslie and Allison. She was so genuine and authentic and a great lady of the south. She will be missed.

“ Nathan and Leslie, so sorry to hear about your mom and my Aunt Sally. I'm going to miss her as much as I miss grandma and my dad. Sally was my favorite aunt. I always felt like we had a special connection, maybe because she spoiled me rotten when I was a little girl. Love, Kathy Fancher

“ Sally was our friend way back in the day, when Nathan was only three years old. Jim Fagre, Sally, and Nathan would come by to see Carl Hamilton and me, at our farm. We always talked about fishing. We laughed a lot. They loved their son, who was the smartest little boy, with a huge vocabulary. He knew how to use those big words. We enjoyed just watching him, and tried hard not to laugh at him. He was too cute! Sally was a strong woman, who could do without, and could make anything out of nothing. She could be happy on a river bank for a week. She always seemed so kind, and did take care of her two daughters, till they left home. She didn't live a normal life, like town people do.. She just did what was needed, and lived in nature by the river. She loved her son and grandchildren. It was time for her to go home to be with Jesus, She'd been sick for a few years. I'm sure the family will miss her.
