“ My Mother she taught me how to be part of life to live to forgive myself, others and learn from what life dished out. She always had sage advice for me mixed with compassion and love. She taught me to dream and work towards achieving those dreams while being myself. She was never shy about knocking me on my backside through thoughts and ideas making me strive to get back on my feet and climb the mountain. God blessed me with having Shirley as my mother I would have no other. I wish we had another minute so I could tell you I love you one more time .
